Mrs. A. Linden Wins Second Place at Chicago's Big Fair

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Canada won one of the championships which it covets highly and lost another as the International Stock Exposition reached its climax yesterday. Joseph H. B. Smith of Wolf Creek, Alta., brought the title of "Wheat King" back to the Dominion, and C. Ivan Gustafson of Victoria, Mont., took away the title of "Oats King" which stands second, in the estimate of Canadian grain growers, to the wheat award.

In taking the top ranking in the wheat sweepstakes, Smith broke the two-year hold which C. Edson Smith of Corvallis, Mont., has maintained of Corvallis, Mont. He has maintained class sample of hard red winter wheat, with which the Montanians won the championship for grain of that type and with which for two years he has beaten the Canadian entries of hard red spring.

Canada did not do so much as the reserve championship in the oats competition, being forced to compete in the preliminary class contest with Gustafson's grand championship sample. The reserve championship went to Dr. J. F. Meizer of Lajarra, Colo.

In the preliminary competition in which the Canadian entries were eliminated, Gustafson's sample was given a close race. In second place was the exhibit of Mrs. Alina Linden of Wetaskiwin, Alta., while in fourth place the eventful wheat king, Joseph H. B. Smith, Wolf Creek, Alta., was found. Nine Linden of Wetaskiwin, was fifth; George Avery of Kelso, Sask., was sixth; L. B. Anderson of Bittern Lake, Alta., was seventh, and William Whitehead of Kelwood, Man., was eighth.

TO REMOVE SNOW FROM HIGHWAYS DURING WINTER

Edmonton, Dec. 3. — For the first time in history, Alberta, during the winter, will undertake the removal of snow from sections of main highways according to an announcement made on Monday by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

Equipment has been ordered, and it is expected to be delivered here within the near future.

This equipment will consist in the main of a snow plough to be attached to motor trucks. A high blade, spirally curved will brush the snow aside.

A fair rate of speed will be made by the motor-propelled vehicles. While no special sections of the highway have as yet been designated, the minister indicated that the most heavily travelled portions of highway would be dealt with first. This clearing off will be undertaken in those sections where snow fences have been, or will be erected, as a complimentary activity.

"The main idea behind this clearing will be to see just what measure of relief from snow will result, and this is an experiment which will guide the government in regard to future work along these lines."

SURPRISE FOR 25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

To honor the silver wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gross, the daughters of the household arranged a delightful surprise for Thursday evening at the Gross home, 1406 1/2 St. S.W., Puyallup, Wash.

The hours of the early evening were spent socially. Many beautiful gifts in silver were presented to the bride and groom of 25 years, among them being a handsome coffee set, complete with the last detail. Late supper was served by the young hostesses.

A notable feature of the occasion was the fact that it brought together four generations of the family: The great-grandmothers, Mrs. Seward and Mrs. J. P. Gross; the parents, Mrs. Percy Rowley and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stratton, and the children, three year old Marie Rowley and Lawrence Stratton, Jr.

Friends gathered to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. Gross were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Buckmaster, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Berry, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gosselin, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wainwright, Miss Clotilda Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rowley, and Marie, Dr. Gordon Gross, Walter Morris, Mrs. J. P. Gross, Mrs. F. A. Seward, of Forestburg, Alta., Gertrude Masie, of Roy, Wash. and Mr. and Mrs. L. Stratton and Lawrence, Jr., and Jack Estes of Tacoma, and the young hostesses, the Misses Helen, Anna and Ruth Gross.

POPULAR CITIZENS HONORED ON AUSPICIOUS OCCASION

The Swedish Mission Church was the scene of a very happy gathering on Thursday, Nov. 28th, the occasion being the 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Swanson. Relatives and friends had gathered from far and near to pay their respects to this highly esteemed couple. Pastor Wickstrom gave a very hearty opening address, whereupon he, on behalf of everyone present, presented the bride with a lovely bouquet of flowers.

Mr. G. W. Bradenburgh, with a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Swanson, on behalf of the Wetaskiwin Ladies' Aid, with a bunch of beautiful carnations. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Swanson sang a duet very effectively. Rev. Quarrenberg of Winnipeg, was also present. He expressed his congratulations and spoke of Mr. and Mrs. Swanson's untiring work for the church.

Brief speeches were also made by Mrs. Bjorkgren, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Anderson and Mr. J. Berg. Mr. Swanson thanked one and all for the pleasant way Mrs. Swanson and himself were enabled to spend their anniversary.

The dining room in the basement was decorated with wedding bells and streamers.

THE HOME TOWN
(Walt Mason)

"Some happy day," I've often said, "I'll go back to the old home town, and once again with friends I'll tread the paths I used to amble down. I'll see the boys I used to know, the girls whose beauty cheered my eyes, in those brave days of long ago when all the world seemed Paradise." For years the journey was postponed, for reasons grave, for reasons light, and I was old, my joints all groaned, and I finally made the trip. I thought to see the girls and boys as I had left them in the past, pursuing vain but harmless joys, but youth's a thing that doesn't last. A few old crumples here and there, and gray hairs, broken in life's game, regarded me with vacant stares and struggled to recall my name. They were the boys with whom I played, with whom I fished, in days gone by, and they were seated in the shade, just waiting for a chance to die. "Oh, where's," I asked, "Charlie Jones, and where are John and Richard Roe?" The sexton covered up their bones; an old man said, "long years ago." Old women, fat and old women lean, surveyed me, as I held my way, and asked them had been a queen upon a golden distant day.

"Oh, where's," I asked, "Mabel Guest, and where are Mae and Helen Peters?" "The sexton laid them all to rest," a balding said, "long years ago." The saddest thing a man can do is thus to journey back again to some old battlefield he knew, before small boys grew into men. The ghosts of comrades with him tread the streets where pleasure used to thrive, and all the friends he knew are dead, though some pretend to be alive. Now strangers live in the abodes where friends once made the fire light glow, and tombstones seem to block the roads, wherever he elects to go.

The rain which fell on Friday and Saturday last has made the streets of the city, as well as the roads in the country very icy and dangerous for travel. A number of minor accidents have taken place, owing to cars getting beyond control.

Don't forget the annual meeting of ratepayers of the City of Wetaskiwin to be held at the U.F.A. hall on Thursday evening, December 5th, at 8 p.m., when reports of the different departments of the city will be presented and an opportunity will be given for candidates for office to address the meeting.

Rev. Appel was absent from the city last week, attending the annual meeting of the Lutheran Immigration Board at Winnipeg. He was appointed one of the directors of the Board, which aims at assisting selected Lutheran immigrants from Canada to find work and homes. Rev. Appel returned on Saturday morning, accompanied by Rev. Potenhausen, who at one time was in charge of the Brightview parish. Rev. Potenhausen preached at both services on Sunday and had the pleasure of meeting a number of his former parishioners, who had heard of his visit to Wetaskiwin.

PIONEER FARMER RAISED NICE PIG, WEIGHED 840 LBS.

A dainty specimen of the pig family was brought to Camrose on Saturday by Charles J. Shermack, a pioneer farmer living a short distance east and south of town. Porky tipped the scales at eight hundred and forty pounds at the age of two years and four months.

He weighed fifty pounds as two months when Mr. Shermack purchased him from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lacombe. A member of the celebrated and popular Yorkshire family (bacon type) this great creature had nothing unusual in respect to either quantity or quality of food, but like some people was inclined to put on weight without apparent reason. Piggy has since shuffled off this mortal coil, and is at present gracing the larder of Mr. Keller, a new Canadian, who is living on the Forster farm. Mr. Shermack states that the pig had a huge frame and as far as he knows is the heaviest hog to be raised in the Dominion.

He has another "outsize" hog at his farm that weighs in the vicinity of seven hundred pounds which is destined to grace the Shermack smokehouse before many moons are passed.

TWO BEER VOTES ARE SCHEDULED

Edmonton, Dec. 3.—Two local option beer plebiscites are being arranged for early in 1930, according to John D. Hunt, clerk of the executive council. These are at the hamlets of Metlakow and Wainham.

The Metlakow vote has been set down for January 4, and while Wainham's date has not yet been set, it is probable it will be January 15.

Metlakow has been created an enlarged area for purposes of the vote, and there will be 368 entitled to ballot on the matter.

A vote was taken at this point on October 15, 1928, the result being six "for" beer parlors and 38 "against."

The program was then given, and was much enjoyed by everyone present. Among the numbers were, a trio on piano by Edith Baxter, Frances Rouleau, and Agnes Thompson; Norwegian dance by twelve Institute girls, also chorus "The Roses of Yesterday," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Schram; reading, "Betty Brown," by Florence Berger. A dainty lunch was then served by Mrs. T. B. Stevenson and Mrs. Swanson.

SPEAKER SAYS KU KLUX KLAN DEFENDER OF PROTESTANTISM

Although denying that he was touring Alberta and Klan auspices and announcing from his platform in the Oddfellows' hall Thursday night that he was speaking under the auspices of the Local Orange Lodge in Wetaskiwin, R. C. Snelgrove of Regina, devoted considerable time to eulogizing Ku Klux Klan activities and defending that organization which he claimed had been dragged through the mud and mire by Jesuit Romanists, bootleggers, bawdy-house keepers and the underworld in general.

The speaker stated that the fiery cross was not symbolic of the Klan but represented the highest degree in many Protestant orders. He advised his hearers never to be afraid of the Klan which he claimed was working to unite the one hundred and forty-six sects in Canada. Mr. Snelgrove recited the Klan oath and followed this by describing in detail the activities of the K.K.K. in Saskatchewan prior to the provincial election of June 8 last.

"My mission in Alberta is to get a better understanding between such organizations as the Masons, the Oddfellows, Orange order and other Protestant secret organizations and Protestant churches," said the speaker. "The Saskatchewan elections of June 8 saw the close of the first crusade and we are now preparing for the 1930 elections which will be fought between Protestants on one side and Roman Catholics on the other."

PROPOSED NEW SCHOOL ACT FAVORED IN SPIRITED DEBATE

Hillsdale and Lone Ridge U.F.A. locals clashed in a spirited debate on Thursday evening, Nov. 28th, at the Lone Ridge Hall, before a large and enthusiastic gathering. The subject debated was "Resolved, the New School Act will be more beneficial than the present system."

Several musical numbers, readings, etc., were interspersed throughout the evening, and received much applause.

That the judges, Messrs. C. H. Russell and C. D. Enman and Rev. Father Walravens, had a very difficult task in deciding the issue was evident, but as Mr. Russell pointed out in summing up for the judges, Hillsdale had a slight advantage. He congratulated both teams on their splendid presentation of the subject and congratulated them in choosing a subject which is at present much before the public.

The ladies, at the close of the debate and program, served a splendid lunch, which was enjoyed by all.

Glass mirrors and magnifying glasses were invented by Roger Bacon in the 13th century.

Seed Fair, Gymnasium and Establishment of Air Port Road Building and Snow Menace Among Matters Discussed

A joint meeting of the Board of Trade and the Kiwanis Club was held on Monday evening. Owing to the poor condition of the roads, only a few country members were in attendance. Several matters of importance, namely the holding of the seed fair, the matter of a gymnasium, and the establishing of an air port for Wetaskiwin, as well as a letter from the Bashaw Board of Trade, asking the endorsement of a petition to have the government establish a playground at Buffalo Lake, were referred to the Council of the Board of Trade.

The President, Richard Ballhorn, announced that the election of officers would take place at the January meeting, and named a committee composed of C. H. Russell, W. Prest, H. C. Cooke, B. S. Wallis and C. R. Shantz to recommend the officers for the ensuing year.

The Club had as their guests, several members of the Junior section of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Campbell was the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Ramsey, vice-president of the Junior section of the Edmonton Club, also spoke briefly, and outlined the work the Junior Section was undertaking to do.

Mr. Campbell, who is a Rhodes scholar, returned recently after spending three years in England, and his address was very interesting and enlightening. He took as his subject, the economic situation in Britain, and its effects on Canada, and it was very evident that Mr. Campbell had given very serious and deep thought to the problem. He stated there was a great misconception in England regarding Canada, and on the other hand Canadians had a great misconception of England.

He referred to the indomitable courage of the English people, all his work, especially the way he is facing the very heavy tax and super tax which would drive most men out of business. But he continues without waning and with the strongest courage. Among the great achievements of England are the speed air record, the speed land record, the fastest trains in the world, highest efficiency of chemical industry, leaders in the silk industry, and international system of finance. Four of the principal industries of England, namely, coal, steel, textile and agriculture, have fallen off considerably since the war. But the cause of this is political rather than economical. Today there are 1,400,000 unemployed in Great Britain, all drawing dole and unemployment insurance. The idea was growing that the government immigration, railway

Comedy by Moose Lodge Is Big Hit With Packed House

The comedy "Turn to the Right," which was staged in the Audien Theatre on Wednesday last week, under the auspices of Lodge No. 1559, Loyalty Order of Moose, was well received by a house which was packed to the doors. The play commenced promptly at 8 o'clock and during the continuation of the performance, which lasted nearly three hours, there was not a dull moment. The play centered around a new-doll-of-the-race tracks, who after serving a term in prison, had decided to reform, and returned to his home, where he made good, in the face of considerable opposition. B. W. Bellamy, who took the part of Joe, the new-doll, George Thompson as Muggs, an expert pick-pocket, and Wally Mountain as Gilly, a second-storey jimmy artist, worked well together, and it was very interesting to see how these three pals after serving prison terms, reformed and found their way into an honorable life. The parts were well taken and at times they kept the audience in roars of laughter. Vic Scott as leadore, an Ostianing pawbawker, and Chas. Felling as Isaac, an old tailor, took their parts typically. Mrs. Buwanan, who took the part of Mrs. Bascom, made an ideal mother, while Mrs. Drolet, as Betty Bascom, the pride of the peach farm, was very charming. Mrs. Mae Bidinger as Jessie Strong, a friend of the Bascoms, and Miss Letta Gordon, as Elsie Tilinger, the Deacon's daughter, displayed considerable talent and did very well in the play.

The play was very popular throughout the community, as people came from as far as Leduc, Bashaw and Lacombe to see it. We understand the visitors were so pleased with the performance that an effort is being made to have the play staged at some out-of-the-way places.

The entire cast of characters, especially Mr. Bellamy, under whose direction the comedy was staged, are to be highly congratulated upon the success of their efforts. Nearly all the scenery used in the production was painted by Miss Florence Osine and Chas. Felling, local artists. The specially constructed mechanical effects introduced were a decided novelty and made a big hit with the crowd, as a fitting finale to a splendid production. The audience went to great extent in staging the show, but was rewarded with a record-breaking "house" of about four hundred dollars.

During the intervals, a ten-piece orchestra composed of Carl Jorve (leader), Mrs. V. Scott (piano), Mrs. Condie (violin), Elford Jorve (violin), Rev. Fr. Walravens (cello), Herb. Chander (saxophone), Clarence Johnson (saxophone), H. Switzer (saxophone), S. Chandler (trombone), and H. Toffy (drums) delighted the audience with several selections.

I won't lecture you or abuse you any more tonight."

"You'll be nice?" he asked, again eager.

"As nice as possible. You won't the race, didn't you?"

"And you didn't really mind my fouling? You wanted me to win?" he demanded.

"I'm twenty-three, Tim. Old enough to realize that what we want we may not have; what we get has been determined some time ago. You've got me, for supper here. I've got you. Well, let's make the best of it."

"It could be a lovely test," he insisted.

She shrugged.

"Maybe. I don't know. Fate hasn't taken me that far into her confidence."

"Could I show you?" he inquired.

"You mean—make love to me?"

She shook her head. "Fate has read me no riddles, Tim, but that—I don't need her assistance. Love can only be made when two engage in the pretty pastime. And I—shall never engage in that little game with you."

"Sure?"

She stared at him, taking no warning from his eagerness.

"Pon-a-ute, old thing," she straightened up in her chair. "Come on; let's talk nonsense. I said I'd be as nice as possible. But 'possible' ends at talk of flirtation and long before flirtation begins. Here, what's this?"

She leaped to her feet. The Minerva's lines had been cast off, and the propeller had begun to move. She ran to the low rail and stood poised upon it for a moment. But the stone pier was already twenty feet away.

"Well, for the love of Mike!" ejaculated Stevens. "Any one would think you thought I was about to bite nap you. Any objection to a spin down the lake, to give us an appetite for supper?"

"Well, if we can leave Casa Clara at all, without offending our hostess, I don't suppose it much matters where we go."

"It looked as though you were afraid of me," stated Stevens.

"I suppose must have had something to do with what it looked like, then," she retorted. "You like women to be afraid of you, don't you, Tim?"

"I don't get you," he told her.

"The very devil of it is—you do get me—always. Isn't that true? I can see through you so completely that instead of being feared—you're a little bit afraid of me; eh, Tim?"

"I think the Minerva, so clean and sweet, is your soul—when you were a tiny baby."

"Little Miss Hate-Herself— that's you, isn't it?" he jeered.

"You can't accuse me of vanity because I state that I can see through you, Tim. Most women can, and do. They don't tell you so, because you have money."

"I won't agree with you," he said. "But if you can see through me, then you must know how much I love you."

"That's what offends me," she replied.

"Offends? Is love offensive?"

"Your kind. From a man like you—of course it's offensive."

"Oh, by God! that's carrying it a bit too far! Just a bit too raw, Lucy!" he cried. "I don't said it up to a certain point, but when you radiate that I'm useless, stinky—"

"You are—"

"Then why, in God's name, come out here with me to-night?" he cried.

"Because when I enter a game I play it. Pity you can't say as much, Tim."

"How do you know I can't? How do you know—when I play a game, I don't play it all the way?" he demanded.

She laughed contemptuously.

"With women, you mean? But of course you mean that. It's the only game you know. But—you've never played it with my kind of woman, because my kind can play with you."

"You're one that's going to," he said.

"Think so?" She shook her head again. "This is Mrs. Clara's game we're playing. The other game—I didn't enter."

"You didn't know you'd entered it," he contradicted, "but you have. You're here aboard the Minerva. You'll leave the Minerva when I'm damned good and ready to let you leave not before. Now, do you play my game?"

Her eyes were dreamy; her sweet mouth drooped pensively.

"If Fate intended, yes. But Fate has been so very kind to me, thus far, that I cannot believe it intends me any such trick as playing such a game with you, Tim. I've come out with you. Let's go back."

"Not," he told her, "until you've learned a little more of fate."

"Abduction went out with hoop-skirts," she said.

"It's come in again," he remarked grimly.

She remembered Mondane, the Minerva's skipper. A rat-faced man, of exact ancestry, a touch of the Levantine, but the hook-nosed nose. The men were ordinary sailors, and the domestic staff, so to speak, were Japs. No help from the latter would be forthcoming it was not for them to interfere in the actions of the barbarians who employed them. The white sailors were crude, stupid men; and Mondane was his master's man.

Wariness owned her; this situation, cheerfully impossible though it might seem later when she narrated it, was definitely dangerous now. The extent of its danger depended entirely on the degree of madness which possessed Stevens.

"And it all leads to—what?" she asked.

"You'd keep your word. It leads to your promise to marry me. When I have that, I'll put you ashore."

"And as the months, or years, pass blithely by?" she asked.

"I won't wait that long," he said.

"Maybe, after a while, you'll ask me to marry you."

"Isn't this a trifle too melodramatic, Tim? The ruined maiden pleads with her despoiler—"

"The trouble with you, Lucy," he interrupted, "is that, with all your experience, you don't know men. Or you'd know that I mean what I say."

"But why want a girl who has only contempt for you?" she asked.

"Don't ask me? Why does the tide come in? You believe in Fate; you've said so often enough, anyway. Well, you're my fate, Lucy. God! I haven't mentioned love to you, but if I had words to tell you—The very sight of voice I hear. A girl dances in the theatre and it's Lucy Harkness that I'm watching. The sun sets over Lake Worth and it's Lucy Harkness's face I see.

"A magazine, a newspaper supplement prints pictures of women and there're all photographs of you. Your name is in the headlines; it's on the signs along the road. I tell you, Lucy, this is real, this is honest-to-God. I've never told you, never asked you to marry me, but—your love."

"Yes, I've known, of course," she admitted.

He snatched at her admission.

"And you came here to-night—Lucy, why did you come? Was it because—"

"It was because, solely, you won the race. No other reason. I've never shirked an issue, never avoided a problem. Fate meant me to come here to-night. But I've told you this a dozen times."

"And don't you think that Fate also means us to care for each other?"

"I've answered that before, Tim, but I'll answer it again. I'd rather be dead than let your hands rest upon me; I'd rather be dead and condemned to eternal hell than let you kiss me. Now, is the answer clear?"

Later, sheer, stark panic overwhelmed her. She was trapped, caught, at what mercy this beast, this madman, chose to extend to her.

And even as she recognized this fact a knock sounded upon the door.

Stevens's voice came through the panels. It held a quality of excitement that she had never noted in his tones before. It was almost as though he had been drinking heavily and was fighting hard not to show the effect of the liquor. Yet there had not been time, since she left him, for him to become intoxicated.

"Lucy, I want to talk to you," he said.

The maddest panic swept over her, obliterated sanity. The door was slimy, would give way, despite the bolt, at the least onslaught. Tim Stevens had dared plan an abduction and carry it through. He might not go to further lengths, but how could she tell? If she opened the door—if she failed to open the door and he crashed through it.

She would rather die than plead with Tim Stevens. She had never bargained of any one in all her life; she would not begin now. Yet she could not fight; a screaming, scratching, woman lost all dignity, confessed her weakness by her very defense.

Panic passed; although her act was mad to the point of suicide, her actions were cool, deliberate. This was Devil-May-Care, who made her decisions on instant impulse, but who carried them through as calmly as though they had been thought over for months.

She opened the port-hole—really a window of her cabin, and dived cleanly into the Gulf Stream.

She was conscious of no shock as she went below the gleaming waters. It was one of these nights when semitropical Florida is really tropical, and the difference between the temperature of air and water was very slight. She didn't bother to swim beneath the surface for any appreciable distance.

SYNOPSIS
 What Happened Before
 At a party in Palm Beach given by Mr. Cooper Clary, Leeson, an attorney, meets Lucy Harkness, known as Devil-May-Care because of her adventurous, eventful life. In a game in which partners for the evening are chosen, Lucy is won by Tom Stevens, who has a great reputation as a successful heart-breaker. Leeson is a bit jealous. Tim Stevens tells Lucy they are going aboard his boat, the Minerva, and she accedes in order not to be "a quitter." Asked if she is sorry that he won her company, Lucy says she is not and that evidently Fate has arranged it. Tim thereupon tells her to stop looking regretfully after Leeson.

Now Go On With the Story
 "Regretfully? I've never regretted anything, Tim. I do—whatever I do—because—it was ordained. Am I able to deflect the course of the universe? Then how can I deflect myself? I'm a projectile, Tim, aimed by some force at some remote target."
 "Remote? Maybe not. Perhaps I'm the target, Lucy," he suggested.

She pursed her mouth.

"I hardly think so, Tim."

"Why not," he demanded.

"Too good for you," she told him.

"Are you, by any chance, joking?"

"Certainly not."

"Then you're just being rude?"

"Truthful! Is a prettier word."

"Too good for me, eh?" he mused.

"Well, good! Is a strange word. Its capable of a lot of translations. Too good for me? How about Leeson? Not too good for him?"

"Why harp on him? I'd never met him until to-night," she said.

The Minerva was one of the finest boats of its kind in Southern waters, and often though she'd seen the craft, Lucy Harkness gave a little nod of approbation tonight. The polished woodwork reflected the stars the chairs cushioned wicker, gleamed spotlessly white; the fittings of the small boats shone; the canopy aft looked, in this silver light, as though made of colored damask. And upon the table laid for two the Minerva's steward had expensed not merely time but taste.

"I always like you better when I come aboard the Minerva, Tim," she said.

"So?" His voice was sullen.

"I think the Minerva, so clean and sweet, is your soul—when you were a tiny baby."

"How long have you been teaching Sunday-school?" he demanded.

She laughed.

"Fair enough! It isn't fair to reproach you about the present condition of your soul, is it Tim? Not while my own is in the condition it is, Well,

Election Addresses to Electors

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF WETASKIWIN

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Election time is once more upon us and on Monday next you will have the opportunity of electing a Mayor to conduct the City's affairs for 1930, one of the most important years in the history of the City. I am a candidate for re-election as Mayor, and as it will be impossible to see you all before election day, I am taking this means of asking you for your support.

I am appealing to you on my past record of eight years continuous service as Mayor of this City. At no time nor under any circumstances have I ever used my official position for my own personal advantage. My one object at all times has been to advance and protect the interests of the City and its Citizens.

When we compare conditions in 1922 when I first took office, with the situation today we can readily see the tremendous improvement and distinct progress that has taken place in every branch of Civic activity. I will only refer here to the financial betterment attained during that period. Our debentures and current liability on Jan-1st, 1922, amounted to the large sum of $510,000.00. At the end of this year our total liabilities, not taking into account the recent sale of our Light and Water Utilities, will be reduced to $285,000.00, a reduction in debt of nearly one-half in 8 years, a record unsurpassed in Western Canada. This has been accomplished by careful management and good administration of councils and officials during that time.

It will be recalled that in 1919 the finances of the City had become hopelessly involved. Unpaid and past due debentures and other liabilities had reached the large sum of $100,000.00.
With the intervention and assistance of a Department of the Provincial Government, arrangements were made with the bondholders and the bank, whereby the payment of this indebtedness was spread over ten years and the ratepayers since that time have been paying nearly $14,000.00 annually to liquidate this liability. The last payment was made this year for which we are all truly thankful.

The Council is now relieved of the responsibility of management of the Electric Light and Water systems, the sale of these Utilities having been completed and transfer made to the Calgary Power Company on December 1st.

The reduction in taxation made possible by the wiping out of the old refunded debt above-mentioned and the sale of our Utilities make desirable a revision of our present system of taxation, and the carrying out of improvements that progress demands.

If elected, I will support and endeavor to bring into effect the following policies:

Cancellation of the Automobile tax and the tax on stock and equipment.
Reduction of the Business tax to conform to the reduction in general taxation.

Revise the Motor and Dray Licenses.

The undertaking of a new assessment in 1930 with a revaluation of all buildings.

Deciding on a definite plan of street improvement and making a start this year on graveling through streets to connect up with the Provincial Highway system, the expense to be borne jointly by the City and the Government.

Active participation in a plan of City Beautification in conjunction with the Town Planning Commission.
Cooperating with the Board of Trade and the Calgary Power Company in an energetic campaign for industrial development in our City.

Joining with the Sports Association and Service Clubs in encouraging and fostering sports through the further improvement of our Sports Grounds and securing necessary legislation enabling the citizens should they so desire, to erect a Municipal covered walking rink and gymnasium available for use in the fall of 1930.

Getting wholeheartedly behind the movement to erect a Municipal Hospital in Wetaskiwin and doing all possible to have the scheme adopted by the ratepayers, not only of the City, but throughout the entire Hospital district.

Giving the Calgary Power Company every support and cooperation in order that their undertakings in this City shall be satisfactory not only to the ratepayers but to the Company as well, and to see that the terms of the Contract and franchise are adhered to in all essential particulars.

Adopting an active policy in Sidewalk Construction which will replace every portion of plank walk now in

TO THE CITIZENS OF WETASKIWIN

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have been chosen by the Citizens' Committee to represent the people in the forthcoming contest for Mayor-ally.

It is impossible for me to call upon you personally to solicit your support.
I will, however, appreciate your giving serious consideration to the general situation as we find it at present. If you elect me and I have the support of the Aldermen, I will bring about democratic, progressive, civic administration, ever keeping in mind that industrial development is now possible since we have cheap light and power.

The year 1930 will be an important one in the history of Wetaskiwin, as among other matters, the system of finance must be dealt with. If elected, I will give the financial situation every consideration and will manage the city's affairs as economically as possible.

I am non-partisan.

If elected I will seek to co-operate with the people of rural Districts in all matters pertaining to the mutual welfare of our City and the surrounding country. I will spare no effort to establish and maintain, harmonious, business-like relations with Provincial Public Officials with whom we must of necessity deal in the future.

Respectfully yours,
BRUCE D. HOWATT.

C. N. GUNDESON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF WETASKIWIN

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having yielded to the urgent request that I stand for re-election as

Review Canadian Business and Find It Sound

55th Annual Meeting of Shareholders
Imperial Bank of Canada

Deposits Increase $4,800,000

Mr. Peleg Howland, President, said, in part:

Up to this time, speaking generally, business has been active. There has been sufficient turnover in the various distributing businesses to warrant the conclusion that it has been done with profit.
Building and contracting have been active. Expenditure of a public nature on roads, schools and so forth has been large.
Railroads have made and are continuing to make extensions and improvements.
The products of the mines have been in excess of those of last year. The production and export of pulp and newsprint have been large, the expenditure of those that have actually or seemingly profited by their ventures in the stock market has been free and has no doubt had an effect on the mode of living of those with whom they have come in contact, with resultant demand for luxuries. The Dominion net debt has been further reduced, offset again to an extent last year, by the obligations incurred by the National Railways.

While it is reasonable to expect that there will be little curtailment of most of the activities I have mentioned above, the short crop must of necessity have some influence on business and the consumption of goods. Already the transportation companies and collateral interests have been affected. The recent slump in stock markets, too (while not an actual loss of capital to the country except where the speculation has occurred in exchange markets outside the country), will curtail some of the free spending to which reference has been made, so that I feel that there will be some slackening in trade at least for a period.

BRITISH MARKET

Great Britain continues to be the chief market for the products of our fields.
While reports would indicate that the general improvement in general conditions there, they are still far from satisfactory, the number of unemployed being very great, with little prospect of relief from emigration. Efforts are being made to find some means to increase her trade within the Empire, which, if accomplished, without sacrifice of the interests of the Dominions, is greatly to be desired.

PEACE OF THE WORLD

The present British Government is laudably anxious to further the Peace of the world, and the recent visit of Premier MacDonald to the United States and his enthusiastic reception there will, it is hoped, make still more cordial the relations between that country and Great Britain, and have its effect on the results of the Naval Disarmament Conference to be held in London in January.

UNITED STATES CONDITIONS

Their grain crops are short, but their crops generally are more diversified than ours, and have not the same proportionate shortage that has occurred with us, so that while it may be that there will be some slackening in their business activities, it is not probable that there will be any lessening of their demand for such commodities as we supply them.

CANADIAN SETBACK CANNOT
LAST LONG

As to ourselves, it may be that there will be some short while setback in our advancement, but it cannot last for very long, and would be probably good for us after our recent efforts to get rich quick.
Notwithstanding short crops and such drawbacks, the opinions of the Branch Managers, as expressed in their annual letters on conditions, are optimistic for the coming year.

Sir James Woods, Vice-President, said, in part:

Mr. President: Before seconding the adoption of the report may I take time to give the impression of a business man on the extraordinary happenings of recent weeks, and the grounds on which my pronounced optimism is based.
Unfortunately, in the recent stock exchange collapse many innocent people suffered, and they are deserving of our sympathy, but, in the main, the losses will soon be overcome, and salaries and wages, that were being used for speculative purposes, will be available for the purchase of everyday necessities.
That there will be a reflex influence on trade goes without saying. Luxuries and non-essentials will suffer most, but these are chiefly imported, and to halt the importation of luxuries may not be a bad thing.

NOTHING WRONG WITH CANADA

But, whatever may have gone wrong on the stock exchange, there is nothing wrong with Canada. Everything seems to be pulling our way. Science, research and inventive genius are adding value to our unparalleled natural resources and enormously increasing our per capita production through the mechanization of industry, thus making it a positive advantage to have only a small population to feed and employ. Unemployment is a problem confronting the peoples of the world, and Canada may enjoy comparative freedom in this respect if we exercise prudence in our immigration policy. While the opinion commonly held in Canada is that no effort should be spared to make our productive farms and mines feel that the time has come to go slowly, and to select with great care all immigrants, particularly those not readily related to the two great groups now represented in the population of Canada.

A BROADER CANADA

One of the greatest factors in changing Canada from a narrow strip two hundred miles wide, stretching for three thousand miles along the international boundary, is the development of mechanical contrivances, the railway first of all, followed by hydro-electric power, the motor car, the aeroplane, and wireless communication. Without these the transformation of the great hinterland to the north must have been very slow.

GREAT PEACE VALLEY COMING PROVINCING

The area of this new land is estimated by the Dominion Government to be forty-seven million acres, or about double the present cultivated area of the Province of Ontario. With the long daylight, the growing season, the crops mature rapidly and produce yields even higher than those of the southern regions of the Canadian Prairie. This is a new region, it has been known for a century, and twenty years ago there were enough people who believed in it to cause the wilderness to become a new Province of the Canadian Federation.

The extension of activities to the north all across the country promises a broad Canada, equal to the width of the United States from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada. Taken by itself, this is one of the most important developments in Canada during our time.

Mr. A. E. Phipps, General Manager, said, in part:

PROFITS SHOW $2,000,000
The profits you have heard by the Report, amount to $1,561,561, being $102,000 more than a year ago, I repeat, as is customary, the decline of these profits have been arrived at after making provision for all unearned interest on bills discounted, and such items, and after providing for all known bad and doubtful debts, and for every contingency we can think of.

DEPOSITS INCREASE $4,800,000

Turning to the Balance Sheet, the liabilities of the Bank have now reached the very substantial total of one hundred and fifty-four and a half millions, being an increase of $4,800,000, and represents an increase in the business of the Bank, particularly in deposits. The non-interest-bearing deposits, while they have fluctuated, make up a large part on the end of October within about $100,000 of the same figure at which they stood a year ago, but the increase in deposits bearing interest, which to a great extent represent the savings deposits of the Bank, have increased by $4,800,000, or 4.68 per cent.

CASH ASSETS $26,212,000

When we turn to the assets, we find that our gold, legal tender and Bank balances and cheques on other Banks and assets of that character are equal to practically 20 per cent. of our liabilities to the public, the total being $26, 212,000, or $822,144 more than a year ago.

The total quick assets, in which we include Dominion and Provincial Securities, Call Loans and other items of that kind, are 49.55 per cent. of our liabilities compared with 66 per cent. last year. The difference has been absorbed in the increase in our current loans, which have grown from $37,350,000 to $80, 000,000, due largely to loans against un-exported wheat.

The call loans in Canada have not increased, being $11,171,000, compared with $11,831,000 in October, 1928. There has been a very steady and persistent demand for call loans for all lines of industry during the year, and the current loans of all the Banks, as you no doubt are aware, are swollen at the present time, partly owing to this condition, and partly to so much of the 1929 wheat crop, and even a considerable portion of the 1928 crop, being unexported, for reasons which you see day by day in the newspapers. Once this wheat moves, as it undoubtedly will, the money tied up in loans will flow back to the Banks, and the situation as regards current loans will automatically adjust itself.

PLENTY OF PROMISE FOR FUTURE

In surveying the situation, provided we do not indulge in any wave of speculation or anything of that sort, there is plenty of promise for the coming year and beyond. The national industries are buoyant and the public debt is being reduced; the large Railway Companies have evidently sufficient confidence to continue their orders for new locomotives and equipment, steamships, hotels and such like without reduction;
the branch lines program for next year in the Northwest, I am told, is greater than ever; the markets for high-grade securities are improving and it looks as if the improvement will become permanent; Hydro-Electric development is going on apace, the huge Shawinigan project on the St. Lawrence is well under way, two developments of major importance are taking place in Manitoba, the same is true of B.C.; the prospects for next year's wheat are the best that have been seen for some time; the Western industry shows no signs of further slackening, but the indications are rather that the demand for the product will be increased perhaps at higher prices.

Municipal Hospital Countryside's Pride

(By Edna Kells)

Slightly withdrawn from the little town of Elk Point, the Municipal Hospital, pride of the countryside, is a symbol of the faith and courage of the settlers. The trim little hospital represents their courage in undertaking the establishment of so necessary an institution, and their faith in the future of the district which is still in the pioneer stage. It is only one year since the railway reached Elk Point, present terminus of the St. Paul branch of the Canadian National Railway, but as early as 1906, settlers penetrated the country, travelling in by wagon from Vermilion, homesteading, and gradually opening up the country.

the demand for hospitalization was so great that other measures had to be taken to meet it.

The private hospital opened modestly with one bed and one nurse. The next spring it developed into a four bed hospital and the nursing staff was increased. A year later it was taking care of ten patients, and still the number grew until at one time 26 patients were housed in and around the unassuming building, the overflow being cared for in tents in the yard and in the hay loft.

A solution of the problem was found in the Alberta Municipal Hospitals Act, which outlined a procedure whereby the people could provide a hospital for themselves. A hospital district was formed, 480 men and women supporting the idea and quite overwhelming the 60 opponents. Today a neat and complete sixteen bed hospital, a stucco building of the bungalo type, standing in four acres of ground, caters to the need of the sick of that district. The nursing staff consists of a superintendent and three graduate nurses and one undergraduate. Two doctors have the entire confidence of the community.

The hospital was built by the sale of debentures, and is supported by a tax of 3 cents per acre on assessable land, nursing fees, and the government grant. Ratepayers pay $1.00 per day for hospital service; non-ratepayers $2.50. The total possible revenue amounts to $21,000, and the total probable outlay from $12,000 to $14,000.

Twenty-five per cent of the residents of the district are Ukrainians, Scandinavians, Canadians, American born, English, Scottish, Polish, natives of Central Europe, and Indians complete the population.

There is great thankfulness in the district since the hospital is available, but none are more grateful than the pioneer women upon whom in the earlier days devolved the task of nursing the sick. Theirs was no easy task, driving long distances often in winter, to bring relief to the suffering; nursing under conditions which were a constant menace to the patient's life; heartening the distressed families; and between whiles, looking after their own household duties. It is little wonder they rejoiced when the doctor came to the settlement, and again when later the hospital was built.

As for the others—"We would have moved out if it were not for the doctor's coming," says one; "I do not know how we could stay here if we did not have the hospital. The older people would not want to stay without it," says another. "The hospital gives us a peace of mind, of security they did not have before," avers a third, and so the story goes.

Company Power in Vegreville

(Research Bulletin)
Replying to a query relating opinion on the disposal of Municipal Light and Power Plants to private corporations.
Not knowing any of the details of the proposals which you are considering at the present time, I could hardly venture to make a suggestion. I can say, however, that private ownership is working out satisfactorily here, and don't think there is any doubt but that large corporations, generating electric current in big central stations, can produce and market the product much more economically than may be done by the individual small Municipality.

There was a time no doubt when considerable danger would have been associated with letting these franchises pass into the control of private corporations, but with the safeguards that are provided in this Province through the supervision of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, I can see no cause for uneasiness on that score. The Board, I understand, will under no circumstances permit a private corporation to receive a return of over 10% on the capital invested, and to be allowed this the Corporation must be able to show that they are operating efficiently and economically. Too, the private Corporation is financed through the sale of stock on which no dividend is usually expected during the first few years.

Shareholders look more to appreciation in value over a long period of years than to immediate returns. The private Corporation can therefore lay out its policy more with a view to ultimate profits than present. On the other hand, the Municipal Corporation borrows from bond-holders and its utility must commence to earn its way from the first day.

Replying to a query, professional opinion is given, and for general use the name is suggested. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trademark of the T. M. M. Co., Philadelphia, since 1885.

Faint, Dizzy Spells
For Four Years
Got Worse Every Year

Mrs. J. Bonnette, North Sydney, N.S., writes:—"I used to have faint and dizzy spells, for four years, and was getting worse every year."

"One day my husband asked me if I had ever used

I said I had not,
so he got me a box, and after I had taken half of it I found I was getting better. I then got two more and after finishing them I was greatly improved in health. I used the pills for two months, and that was five years ago, and I have never had a faint or dizzy spell since."

Kidney Trouble

Mrs. TESSIER

"I was very weak because of Kidney Trouble and suffered with terrible Headaches," says Mrs. TESSIER, Tessier, St. Jean de Mathé, P.Q.
"I was treated for a long time and was just about discouraged when I learned of Fruit-a-tives. Improvement came with the first few doses, and in six months the kidney trouble, weakness and headaches were gone."
"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the bowels, kidneys and skin—purifies the blood—and brings sound, vigorous health.
Try this wonderful medicine made of fruit juices combined with the finest medicinal ingredients. 25c. and 50c.

Interest charges immediately the capital is raised or otherwise place a burden on the taxpayers. It always strikes me that an apt term for some kind of Municipal Ownership would be "Bondholder Ownership." Undoubtedly the Bondholder gets the profit, while the Town, after assuming the risk and burdens of management, is sometimes reduced to the position of find itself with a surplus which it calls a "Profit," but which in reality is usually nothing in excess of what it would under Private ownership receive from the private Company as taxes.

Looking back, I can say with all sincerity that considering the nature of our equipment, our Municipal plant was operated and administered both economically and efficiently. But this does not alter the fact that a private Corporation is now generating current here for distribution throughout the whole constituency, paying us more in taxes than we could have hoped to realize from our own plant in the way of profits, and at the same time according reduced rates to the consumer.
I suppose it would be safe to say that what they are doing may be ascribed to mass production and unlimited capital.

If you think the foregoing would be of sufficient interest to cause an argument or bring on any informative discussion you may use it in the R.B.
if you see fit.

There is one thing I would like to see the Bulletin take up with vigor and that is the ridiculous clause in the T.R.A. making the re-instatement of forfeited lands on the Tax Roll compulsory.

J. FITZALLAN,
Secretary-Treasurer.

OBEYING ORDERS

A busy city editor took time to warn the new reporter, whose scintillating headline regarding the mules on the golf course was referred to in the paper's short time ago.

"Never state as a fact anything you are not certain about," the editor said, "or you will get us into libel suits. In such cases use the words
'It is said' or 'It is reported'."

"It is rumored that a card party was

ALBERTA WEED BOARD HOLD MEETING IN EDMONTON

At a meeting of the Alberta Advisory Weed Board held in Edmonton recently, the following were present:

Mr. E. A. Craig, Chairman, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Edmonton; Mr. Geo. Bennett, Manville; Mr. R. B. Matheson, Department of Interior, Edmonton; Mr. H. E. G. H. Scholefield, Vice-President U.F.A., Calgary; Mr. Clyde C. Gillies, RR2, Strathcona; Mr. Frank Reed, Supt. Experimental Station, Lacombe; Mr. H. W. Bright, Milledale; Mr. W. J. Stephen, Secretary, Field Crops Commissioner, Edmonton.

A review of the past year's activities of the board was presented by Mr. W. J. Stephen, and in the discussion which followed plans were laid for the continued work of the Board during 1930.

It was decided that the campaign known as "Weed Week" carried on last season, might be put on at the same time as "Better Seed Week" in the spring of 1930. The Board also recommended that a Weed Inspector's Course be held again at the University early in 1930.

The suggestion was adopted that a number of field supervisors be engaged for a period of six weeks commencing early in January next to hold weed meetings throughout the province.

A number of amendments in existing weed legislation were considered, and will be passed on to the Government as recommendations from the Board.

A comprehensive report was presented by W. G. Smith who, under the supervision of Mr. W. J. Stephen, has been in charge of an exhaustive series of experiments for the Department.

These were conducted at points in the province the next season to determine the effectiveness of a number of the chemical weed killers which have been placed on the market. After hearing this report and as a result of their own experiences along this line, the members of the Board unanimously adopted the following resolution which may be considered the official statement of the Department of Agriculture on this question:

"Be it resolved that we as members of the Alberta Advisory Weed Board, after reviewing the series of experiments conducted during the past season by the Department of Agriculture, go on record as being of the opinion that certain chemicals which are now on the market in this province have a definite value as a control measure in checking the spread of noxious weeds.

"We are further of the opinion that, so far as can be determined by these experiments, those chemicals which contain chlorates as the active principle are more effective than those of which the active principle is one of the sulphates, nitrates or chlorides. We feel that the use of chemicals containing chlorates can be recommended as a control measure on patches of perennial weeds where cultivation is difficult, or on patches found on ditch banks, around lakes, on road allowances, and in general on waste places where cultivation is impossible.

"We are of the opinion, however, that where thorough cultivation can be carried out, the use of chemical weed destroyers is more expensive and less effective."

The National Research Council of Canada has agreed to undertake the direction of experimental work in connection with the whole matter of chemical weed destroyers. The Department is informed that negotiations are now under way between the National Research Council and various Agricultural Experimental Stations throughout Canada with a view to arranging a comprehensive series of experiments to be conducted by these stations. The Department has therefore decided to await the results of these experiments and the finding of the Research Council, before pronouncing definitely on the effectiveness of any particular chemical weed killer.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA HAS RECORD YEAR

The 55th annual statement of The Imperial Bank of Canada which has just been issued for the year ending

October 31st, 1929, indicates that the Bank is in a very strong position and has enjoyed a year of continued steady growth. The profits for the year amounting to $1,561,561.89 are over $100,000 in excess of last year's and are the greatest in the history of the Bank. After paying the usual dividend of 12% on the paid-up capital of $7,000,000, and a bonus of 1%, the balance of the usual allowances for pension fund and taxes and writing off $350,000, from Bank premises, a balance of $718,964 remains at the credit of profit and loss account or $100,000 in excess of the amount carried forward from the previous year.

Perhaps the most gratifying feature of the statement is the increase of nearly $5,000,000 in the deposits. This increase is entirely in the interest-bearing deposits and indicates that the bank continues to enjoy its full share of popularity as a depository, particularly for savings deposit customers.

Contrary to general expectations call loans on stocks and bonds both in Canada and elsewhere, which in this case means New York, are down over $6,500,000, the call loans in New York being actually down $8,500,000. On the other hand, due largely to the unusual heavy loans at this time of year against wheat in Western Canada, current loans and discounts in Canada have increased by over $12,000,000 and now stand at the substantial sum of $80,000,000.

This increase has been made possible by the increase of $5,000,000, in deposits above referred to, by the reduction in call loans, and also by a reduction of $2,000,000 in Government and Municipal Securities held by the Bank, and demonstrates the important part played by the Bank in supplying the commercial, industrial and farming needs of the country.

The Bank's reputation for a strong liquid position has also been well maintained, cash on hand at the end of the year amounting to $26,212,007, or 19.7% of total liabilities to the public while quick assets, that is cash or assets immediately convertible into cash, amounted to $65,916,721, or 49.5% of liabilities to the public.

The total assets now stand at $154,580,786.49, an increase of $4,553,529.80 for the year, and altogether the statement is a highly satisfactory one and one which should be pleasing to the shareholders when they met on Wednesday.

HEROIC STRUGGLE MADE BY POOL TO MAINTAIN PRICES

Despite efforts of English millers to obtain Canadian wheat at 90 cents a bushel, delivered at Fort William, in view of the world-wide bumper crop, pool executives made an initial payment of 85 cents during the autumn of 1928 and plunged into a struggle which "taxed the ability of the organization." George MacIvor, general sales manager for the central sales agency, reported Saturday morning.

His address, presented before the seventh annual convention of the Alberta Wheat Pool, now in session at the Palliser hotel, recounts in bald terms an epic struggle against the world domination of Canadian producers. In his introduction, he referred to the overproduction problem, the reduction in quality of Canadian grain by moisture and frost and to the readjustments necessary for development of new markets for low grade wheat.

European crops were heavy, Mr. MacIvor recalled, but this was offset by the fact that world consumption increased by from 70 to 250 million bushels over that of other years. Marked increases were noted in China, India and Japan. Sales exceeded the 20 million mark from September until January, when pressure of southern hemisphere deliveries affected the market. In May a definite break came as cash wheat was sold at low levels.

"No exporting country ever had to contend with more difficult competition than Canada faced during the period the southern hemisphere marketed its crop last year," said Mr. MacIvor, referring to the period immediately preceding the May break in the prices. Plate wheat from the Argentina, equal to Canadian No. 3, sold for less than we received for No. 5. Australia, well organized, did not offer the same severe competition. American holders fared badly. Forced to sacrifice, they seriously affected Canadian prices.—Herald.

His address, presented before the seventh annual convention of the Alberta Wheat Pool, now in session at the Palliser hotel, recounts in bald terms an epic struggle against old world domination of Canadian producers. In his introduction, he referred to the overproduction problem, the reduction in quality of Canadian grain by moisture and frost and to the readjustments necessary for development of new markets for low grade wheat.

European crops were heavy, Mr. MacIvor recalled, but this was offset by the fact that world consumption increased by from 70 to 250 million bushels over that of other years. Marked increases were noted in China, India and Japan. Sales exceeded the 20 million mark from September until January, when pressure of southern hemisphere deliveries affected the market. In May a definite break came as cash wheat was sold at low levels.

"No exporting country ever had to contend with more difficult competition than Canada faced during the period the southern hemisphere marketed its crop last year," said Mr. MacIvor, referring to the period immediately preceding the May break in the prices. Plate wheat from the Argentine, equal to Canadian No. 3, sold for less than we received for No. 1. Australia, well organized, did not offer the same severe competition. American holders fared badly. Forced to sacrifice, they seriously affected Canadian prices.—Herald.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

COULDN'T WALK FOR FAT

But lost her flabbiness in two weeks

She was crippled by fat, but reduced in two weeks this easy way. That is plain truth—her husband says so! She weighed nearly 200 lbs. and had to stay at home. Read this letter: "My wife, who had been suffering with swollen legs and feet and weighed 190 lbs. 4 oz.—very seldom able to go out walking. After taking Kruschen Salts for two weeks, her flabbiness has gone, legs and feet feel easier. Excess fat is caused by the liver, kidneys and bowels, the 'scavenging' organs of the body—failing to do their work properly. They do not throw off that waste material—the product of digestion. This accumulates, and before you realize it—you are growing hideously fat. The 'little daily dose' of Kruschen Salts tones up the eliminating organs to perform their work properly. Slowly but surely the unwanted mass of fat disappears and what you lose in weight you gain in unbounded health and vitality. The very drop of fat as the fat melts away—leaving you energetic, youthful and vigorous."

Dyspepsia The Remorse of A Guilty Stomach

A dyspeptic must be very careful of what he eats, but how often something tempting is placed before him that he should not eat, well knowing that if he does he will suffer for it after, yet he does not hesitate to partake freely of it and tortures himself.

The quickest way to get rid of this terrible ailment is to take which regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, tones up the stomach, makes pure blood, and restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. Oscar Goetz, Kenilworth, Ont., writes:—"For a year I was bothered with dyspepsia, and tried all kinds of medicine."

"It was so bad I was afraid to eat, but after taking two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I can eat anything I like. I now feel fine and have had no more attacks."

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

HILLSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Harvey entertained a number of the U.F.W.A. members and their husbands at a card party on Tuesday evening last in honor of Mrs. L. W. Marr, who is leaving on a visit to her old home in Ireland. The ladies took this opportunity to shower Mrs. Marr with handkerchiefs and wish her a bon voyage.

Mrs. Barbara Marr of Camrose Normal, spent the week-end with her parents.

Charles Robinson had the misfortune to break his right wrist, and is now carrying his arm in a sling. Tough luck, Charlie.

A number of U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. members and friends gathered at the school house on Monday evening to enjoy a social game of "500." At the close of the gathering, Mrs. L. W. Marr was presented with a steamer rug on behalf of her friends in Hillside.

The U.F.A. will debate on Friday evening with Verdun local. A plea social will follow.

SURVEY VAST POLAR REGION FROM PLANE

New York, Nov. 30.—The New York Times, the St. Louis Dispatch and newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Commander Richard Byrd's expedition, announced today Commander Byrd had safely returned to his base, Little America, after a successful flight across the South Pole, in which he surveyed much adjacent territory.

Commander Byrd's flight across the South Pole has made him the first man in history to fly across both the earth's poles. In May, 1926, in the trimotored aeroplane, the "Josephine Ford," Commander Byrd flew from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, across the North Pole, and returned.

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria. As least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product, a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicine is dangerous to a tiny baby. However harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It's the only one a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every drugstore has it.

The cost of operating the Alberta Wheat Pool during the past year was a little over half a cent a bushel, or a total of $349,068.89. The handlings of wheat totalled 67,443,856 bushels.

WHAT THESE CANDIDATES STAND FOR

The above Candidates, sponsored by the Citizens' Committee of Wetaskiwin stand for open-minded, democratic and progressive treatment of the important issues facing the CITY. They have the necessary qualifications to bring sound judgment, keen business methods and competent decisions to bear upon the problems confronting them.

They are strictly NON-PARTISAN. They will think, speak and act for the people who elect them, namely, the general body of citizens who desire open, above-board, fair-minded administration of the City's affairs.

Endorsed by

The Citizens' Committee of Wetaskiwin

Which has no political platform but does have an aim and policy to obtain and retain good CIVIC GOVERNMENT for the City of Wetaskiwin.

Grist Your Wheat at The Wetaskiwin Flour Mill

To get the most for a few bushels of this year's good wheat have it made into flour

Ten bushels of wheat will make four hundred pounds of flour and about two hundred pounds of bran, shorts and feed flour. We charge only thirty cents a bushel for milling, therefore it pays to grist your wheat.

Mr. GEORGE KELSEY is now in charge of our mill and we can guarantee excellent flour.

"BINGO" DRAWS BIG CROWDS

The "Bingo" Rooster Contest put on by our local men's clothes shop, Mr. C. F. Richards, during the Stock Adjusting Sale, has caused a large discussion throughout the district as to how many kernels of wheat this bird will eat on Saturday next. The eating contest will start at 9 a.m. and end at 5:30 p.m. The person guessing the correct, or nearest to the correct number will receive a Suit of Clothes free of charge. "Bingo" will hold Friday a set day and he should be good and hungry for the opening of the contest.

Just recently the United States papers were full of stories about their country's ambassador to England, General Dawes, and Ramsay MacDonald.

One particularly good one asserts that while the two men were motoring together across Westminster bridge, Dawes turned to MacDonald and asked with a twinkle in his eye: "What do you call this stream?"

But the premier was equal to the occasion. Hastily looking over the side of the car, he exclaimed: "Good gracious! The radiator must have started leaking again!"
